REPORT ON RESEARCH ON THE AWARD OF ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIPS IN GUYANA

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Introduction

The Ethnic Relations Commission initiated the research to determine the "Equitable Award of Academic Scholarships" in Guyana. The outcome of the research is "a comprehensive report identifying existing activities, processes and procedures used to select eligible persons, and comparatively assess whether or not there has been an equitable approach to all concerned".

The researcher was contracted on April 11, 2007 to undertake the research over a three month period in accordance with agreed terms of reference as at Appendix i of the Report.

There were unexpected difficulties in accessing the required information for selected organizations in particular, the two main organizations responsible for administering GOG's Scholarship Programmes.

Methodology

The methodology employed by the researcher involved a survey by telephone, one on one interviews, and questionnaire.

The Survey

A sample of nineteen (19) organizations (in the PUBLIC and PRIVATE SECTORS, and DIPLOMATIC COMMUNITY were contacted to determine their relevance, and interest in participating in the exercise. Please see Appendix ii of the Report.

Of the nineteen (19), sixteen (16) expressed interest and willingness to participate.

Questionnaires were sent to the sixteen (16). Please see Appendix iii of the Report. Thirteen (13) organizations returned completed questionnaires. Please see Appendix v.

Initially, the information requested on ethnicity was not forthcoming and the researcher slightly modified the questionnaire to capture the information in a different format (lists of names and addresses of awardees). Though somewhat flawed, the decision was taken to identify awardees' ethnicity based on their names and addresses.

Despite this, however, the main GOG organizations still did not cooperate.

The participants in the research (those submitting completed questionnaires) were mainly from the PUBLIC SECTOR with only two PRIVATE SECTOR organizations participating out of five that had earlier agreed. The two were Banks DIH Ltd. and the Guyana Telephone & Telegraph Co. Ltd.

The decision was taken to examine the procedures and processes utilized for awards under the Cuban, OAS, and ITEC programmes separately as information was available from other public sources. For example, the ethnic distribution of awards under ITEC for the period 2000-2005 was discovered in an article by Dr. Prem Misir on the World Wide Web. This information shows that, of the one hundred and ten (110) awards granted, 41% went to Afro-Guyanese, 45% to Indo Guyanese and the remaining 14% to Guyanese of mixed race. Further, information on Awards from the OAS was received upon request from the OAS headquarters in Washington.

Although the TOR had stated that age, religion, socioeconomic status, etc. would have been examined, the researcher was forced to confine the analysis to gender and ethnicity because the other information was not forthcoming from the vast majority of respondents.

FINDINGS

An analysis of the available information showed that for the most part, there has been an "equitable approach in the award of academic scholarships". However, this statement does not apply, without reservation, to the GOG organizations, PSM and OP, because the required information was not forthcoming.

The term "Academic Scholarships" has been used to include all kinds of staff development training provided by the various organizations.

The procedures and processes used in selecting eligible candidates in all of the organizations examined were for the most part transparent and provided equality of access. In a few instances, such as GUYSUCO, Guyana Power & Light, Hinterland Scholarship Programme, it may be useful for those concerned to review some stages of the process especially where only one person is responsible for making decisions.

The evidence of a dominance of one ethnic group or gender over the other in a given organization/programme, tended to reflect the gender/ethnic profile of the particular organization for example, GUYSUCO, Guyana Power & Light, Guyana Geology and Mines Commission.

Recommendations

While the information examined did not reveal any inequality of access to opportunities for academic scholarships in Guyana, the researcher feels that the following recommendations if implemented would facilitate the work of researchers generally and contribute to the advancement of the democratic process in Guyana.

 The ERC should be vested with the authority to demand information to enhance its mandate to promote ethnic/racial harmony among Guyanese.

- In light of Guyana's ethnic relations realities, Public and Private Sector organizations should consider collecting and storing information on employees' ethnicity.
- The difficulties experienced in accessing public information that would have allowed a much more meaningful examination of the equality of access to opportunities for academic scholarships by all eligible Guyanese, brings into focus the need for the enactment of appropriate access to public information legislation.

REPORT ON RESEARCH ON THE AWARD OF ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIPS IN GUYANA

1.0 INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 On April 11, 2007 the Ethnic Relations Commission (ERC) formerly initiated research to determine the equity with which academic scholarships have been awarded in Guyana. The consultant Lyris Alicia Primo agreed to undertake the research, the outcome of which is a "comprehensive report" which aims at "identifying existing activities, processes and procedures used to select eligible persons and comparatively assess whether or not there has been an equitable approach towards all concerned".
- 1.2 The research focused on those organizations, public and private, that were known, or thought to have scholarship programmes for the general public and or for the development of staff in the respective organizations. It was expected that a survey of a representative number of beneficiaries, and unsuccessful applicants would have been done but, the requisite information needed to facilitate this exercise was not forthcoming from most of the sample organizations which participated in the research exercise.

- 1.3 The researcher encountered unexpected difficulties in obtaining specific detailed information especially from the two main organizations charged with the responsibility for awarding academic scholarships on behalf of the Government of Guyana to Guyanese viz: the Public Service Ministry and the Office of the President. As a result, the outcome of the research is therefore less than desirable.
- 1.4 For the purpose of this research the term "academic scholarship" includes awards for all types of training opportunities available to the Guyanese populace at large and specific "staff development" opportunities available to employees of specific organizations.

1.5 Based on the Terms of Reference (please see Appendix i), the scope of the research should have covered the period 1997 to 2006 examining the processes, etc of awarding academic scholarships (as defined for this exercise) of public, private and diplomatic organizations in Guyana. However, many of the organizations which participated either did not have records for as far back as 1997 or did not have programmes as early as that period.

While the main focus of the research was equity with regard to ethnicity, it was considered useful to also look at gender, age and socio-economic status as well. The information provided however resulted in the researcher being limited to examine ethnicity and gender only.

1.6 The methodology used involved:

(i) a survey of those organizations which were administering academic scholarship programmes. This was done by first conducting telephone interviews to determine which organizations within the public and private sectors, and diplomatic community had scholarship programmes and were willing to participate in the research (please see Appendix ii for list of organizations so contacted); distribution of questionnaires to those willing to participate in the exercise (please see Appendix iii for the particulars of those organizations); face to face interviews with representatives of some of the participating organisations (please see appendix iv for list of persons so interviewed);

- (ii) an examination of the role of academic scholarships in the general development of Guyanese human resources.
- (ii) a brief overview of ethnic relation issues in Guyana and the role of the ERC.

2.0 THE ROLE OF ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIPS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF GUYANA

2.0.1 Any examination of the role played by the award of academic scholarships in Guyana has to be addressed within the context of the development of education generally.

2.0.2 The earliest record of schooling in Guyana dates back to Dutch rule and the arrival of a religious instructor in Essequibo in 1685. Because 17th and 18th century planters sent their children to Europe to study, local education developed slowly. Private schools and academies for the children of prospering non-British colonists were established and maintained in the colony during the 19th century. The first known reference to the establishment of public schools was made early in the 1800s.

2.0.3 By 1834 there were numerous schools, both elementary and secondary, in British Guiana's urban centres. After the abolition of slavery in 1838 many Africans quickly made use of the educational opportunities open to them as this was seen as a means of escaping working on the plantations and moving into more desirable clerical positions.

2.0.4 By 1841 there were 101 elementary schools most of which were under the direction of the London Missionary Society. A teacher training school and a college were opened in the 1850s. Primary education became compulsory in 1876 but truancy was common.

2.0.5 The British planters and bureaucrats discouraged the education of the Indian indentured labourers. The then government stated in 1904 that Indians should not be prosecuted if they objected, on religious grounds, to sending their daughters to school, while many parents kept the boys away to work on the plantations. It was not until 1933 that the Indo-Guyanese leadership became successful in changing the government's policy.

2.0.6 For most of the colonial period secondary education was restricted to the upper and middle classes. With the exception of a very few SCHOLARSHIPS, secondary education was paid for by parents and not the government. Thus, most of the students who completed primary school were excluded from a secondary education

2.0.7 The reason for the lack of interest in providing secondary education opportunities to the masses was premised on the traditional chauvinistic British view that the "purpose of secondary education was to prepare the elite for its role in society."

2.0.8 In the 1940's, or even earlier, the colonial government, recognizing that many talented Guyanese children were being denied a secondary education because of their socioeconomic status introduced the BRITISH GUIANA SHOLARSHIP programme that rewarded students based on their performance at the scholarship examinations. The programme provided scholarships on a county basis whereby 10 scholarships were allocated to Demerara, 2 to Berbice and 1 to Essequibo. These scholarships allowed deserving students to attend, at that time, the premier educational institutions in Guyana, Bishop's High School for girls and Queen's College for boys. The British County Scholarships provided funds to cover tuition, books, uniforms and a monthly stipend.

2.0.9 Other organizations such as lodges provided partial scholarships to those who did not perform well enough to earn a British County. However, some students were yet unable to take up these scholarships because their parents could not have afforded to pay the costs not covered by the partial scholarships.

2.0.10 By the mid 1950's the Government of the day opened the first Government Secondary School in East Ruimveldt so as to allow more children access to free secondary education.

2.0.11 By the 1960s British Guiana's education system provided for free elementary education for children 6-14 years old although families needed to purchase all necessary materials. The effort of the churches had made it possible for the system to expand all over the country. It was estimated that over 90% of all school age children were enrolled in the so-called primary schools. There were some private schools not aided by the government.

2.0.12 Primary education covered the bulk of the population while the situation at the secondary level was quite different. The secondary schools maintained by the government were available only to those who were able to obtain very good results at the Common Entrance Examination. These superior results earned the student a FREE PLACE in the government-run secondary schools. The only other option available for non- Free Place winners was the private independent schools which were only possible for those who could afford fees or who were awarded some other kind of scholarship such as those awarded to deserving children of members of the British Guiana Police Force or athletic scholarshlps offered by some privately run secondary schools. The distribution of the secondary schools was such that in many cases there was not only the issue of fees but also the board and lodging for the child away from home.

2.0.13 With regard to post-secondary education, particularly at university level, most of Guiana's brightest minds had to compete for the coveted British Gulana Scholarship that afforded them the opportunity to study abroad, in most cases, in Britain. The scholarship was awarded to the student with the best performance at the GCE "A" Level examination. For many years only one such scholarship was awarded annually.

2.0.14 The practice of awarding Guiana Scholarships to students who would have excelled at the GCE "A" Level examinations continued until around the 1980s when it became too costly for the Government to maintain. Students who could not have afforded to finance their own studies abroad then had to rely on such organizations as Demba (now GUYMINE) Bookers Sugar Estates Ltd., (now GUYSUCO) the British Council, and other such places for scholarships.

2.0.15 The education system in Guyana continued to progress rapidly as the nexus between education and development was emphasized by all governments in Guyana. Consequently there developed a number of post secondary education institutions including the GTI, GSA and UG to name a few.

2.0.16 By 1975 the then government abolished private education and became responsible for providing free education from nursery school through the university level in Guyana. The need then for academic scholarships to obtain a good education in Guyana was therefore no longer necessary. Rather, in the secondary education system students were awarded places according to their performance at the Secondary Schools

Entrance Examination. To attend UG students were required to satisfy the basic entry requirements and successfully sit an entry test, in addition to serving one year in the Guyana National Service. Public Servants attending UG in those days were granted "study leave" with full pay for the duration of their programmes and were also required to complete one year in the Guyana National Service. Persons who were recipients of Government of Guyana academic scholarship awards through the PSM to pursue university studies abroad were also required to serve one year in the Guvana National Service. In the cases of Public Servants and PSM awardees a contract to serve the Guyana Government upon completion of studies was among the obligations of the students.

2.0.17 By the 1990s there was a reversal of the policy of free education by the government and privately run schools were reintroduced at all levels. The paying of fees was reintroduced at UG and the need for academic scholarships to pursue post-secondary education in Guyana resurfaced.

2.0.18 The award of academic scholarships in Guyana continues to play a very important role for those desiring to pursue, in particular, a university education whether in or outside of Guyana. Consequently, the Government of Guyana (GOG) and other public and private sector organizations maintain programmes to award academic scholarships based either on merit or financial need, or to develop the organization's HR needs.

2.0.19 Opportunities for academic scholarships, while not many, exist through a number of Government of Guyana programmes in cooperation with friendly countries or through other organizations which have an interest in developing skilled/educated/qualified workers for themselves.

3.0 ISSUES OF ETHNICITY IN GUYANA AND THE ROLE OF THE ETHNIC RELATIONS COMMISSION

Ethnic insecurities are a reality in Guyana. While several initiatives to grapple with this issue, in some instances with support from the International Community, there is till a lot more work to be done.

3.0.1 The Genesis of Guyana's Ethnic/Racial Conflict

According to Dr. Prem Misir in his article "Defining the Indian Diaspora Agenda In the Caribbean" the genesis of the race/ethnic conflict in Guyana could be traced to the strategy used by the planters to "limit the bargaining power of the freed Africans after the emancipation of slavery and the introduction of Indian labourers under the indentureship system". According to Misir, "Indians were not transported from India to fill a labour vacuum on the sugar plantations" since "freed Africans were available in sufficient numbers to man the wheels of the sugar plantations". Misir and other writers argue that the Indians were used by the planters to provide a cheaper source of labour as the freed slaves were demanding higher wages. This action by the planters engendered severe resentment by the Africans against the Indian indentured servants.

Other historians have argued that the ethnic/race conflict in Guyana had its origin in the split of the Peoples Progressive Party in the 1950s.

Whatever the source of the conflict, the reality is that it still exists today and has the effect of impeding Guyana's social, cultural and economic progress.

In an effort to promote ethnic/racial harmony and reduce conflict which has a tendency to increase around national elections, a decision was taken to establish a constitutional body to facilitate the process. The ERC came into being in 2000 by constitutional amendment (#2) for this purpose. It is in keeping with its mandate to "investigate and pronounce upon issues of ethnic relations in Guyana" that the current research was commissioned.

4.0 THE SURVEY

The survey was conducted by means of telephone and one on one interviews and questionnaires. Questionnaires were distributed to sixteen (16) organizations (please see Appendix iii) and thirteen (13) were completed and returned (please see Appendix v). The three that were not returned, after repeated requests, were all from the private sector(please see Appendix vi). Only one of these organizations, Republic Bank offered an explanation (albeit verbally) for not being able to complete and return the questionnaire.

It should be noted here that after it was realized that the information on ethnicity of awardees was not forthcoming from some organisations in the form originally requested, the consultant was forced to modify the questionnaire to capture the information in a different format. (Please see Appendices vii and viii).

4.1 RESULTS OF THE SURVEY

4.1.1 PUBLIC SERVICE/PUBLIC SECTOR ORGANISATIONS

4.1.1.1 THE PUBLIC SERVICE MINISTRY (PSM)

(i) "The PSM has overall responsibility for the management of Departments Regional Government Ministries, and Administration, especially in areas of organization design, development and maintenance of relevant policies, systems and to facilitate the efficient and effective procedures, so as implementation of government's policies and programmes"2 Consequently the responsibility for training and developing a cadre of highly qualified individuals to serve in the public service falls under its purview. More specifically, the Training Division of the Ministry carries out these functions.

The functions have two distinct components namely Staff Development Training and Scholarship Administration. For the purposes of the research academic scholarship will be used to refer to both since the information provided made no distinction

¹ The questionnaire completed by the Office of the Minister did not provide the bulk of the information requested. In the area of ethnicity of scholarship awardees the Minister advised that records "are not stored according to ethnicity. Efforts to obtain lists of names of awardees and unsuccessful applicants were met with the response that "the information is confidential and a court order would be required to release it.

² PSM website; www.sdnp.org.gy/psm/and it will not necessarily have any material impact on the outcome.

(ii) The Ministry, acting on behalf of the Government

Of Guyana, provides opportunities for training and development of Public Service employees (existing and prospective) to enhance their "qualifications and provide practical expertise, based on skills needed to facilitate GOG's development agenda.1

(iii) The Scholarship Programme is administered by the Training Division of the Ministry and includes offers provided through bilateral cooperation with friendly countries and other international/regional organizations, such as Cuba, India, China, the OAS and others. Awards tenable at local institutions are provided on behalf of the GOG.

(iv) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships

- Eligibility Criteria for GOG Awards

Scheme "A" caters for (a) Guyanese who have not been employed in the Public Service/ Sector; (b) those who have been continuously employed for a period of less than five years.

Trainees may pursue studies at either the undergraduate or post-graduate level and are granted study leave without pay (in the case of those employed in the public service). However if a trainee is "nominated" under this scheme to pursue any kind of studies including participation in a short course, seminar, workshop, etc., he/she will still be in receipt of salary.

Scheme "B" caters for those Guyanese who have been employed in the Public Service/Sector for a period of five continuous years or more prior to receiving the award.

Here, candidates may pursue studies at all levels including short term (up to 12 weeks duration), seminars, workshops, etc. and be granted study leave with full pay.

- Application and Selection Process
- Applications from suitably qualified candidates are invited through advertisements in the national newspapers.

-Applications are received and documented by the Training Division, PSM.

-Selection of the best-suited candidates to receive awards is made by a broad-based panel comprising representatives from UG, PSM, TSC, PSC and the Private Sector.

- Benefits

The GOG on its own or through offers by friendly governments funds tuition and other fees associated with the programme being pursued, travel to and from Guyana (where the award is tenable at an institution outside of Guyana), living expenses, etc.; study leave (with full pay for those with more than five years continuous service and those who have been nominated for an award).

- Obligations

Recipients of GOG awards are required to enter into an agreement with the GOG to serve, on completion of his or her training, between one and five years continuous service depending on the duration of the training programme.

Other obligations are elaborated in SECTION E of the very dated PUBLIC SERVICE RULES, 1987 edition. While some of these conditions are obsolete e.g. National Service, many others still apply.

(v) Awards (2003-2006)

The period to be examined by the research was stated as 1997 to 2006. The information provided by the Office of the Minister of the PSM covered the period 2003 to 2006. The following explanation was offered "most of our records which were not computerized before 2003 were destroyed during a construction mishap in 2002. The records available will not reflect an accurate account of all of the scholarships between the years 1997-2002. Therefore I am submitting the records which are accurate for the years 2003-2006".1

Following is the information as provided by the Office of the Minister:

- Total number of scholarships awarded from 2003-2006: 1230

¹ Questionnaire

- Certificate: 280

- Diploma : 220

- Undergraduate: 710

- Post graduate : 10 (9 masters; 1 PhD)

- Medicine: 650

- Engineering: 70

- Dentistry: 15

- Education: 41

- Management: 25

- Agriculture: 123

- Staff development: 306

- University of Guyana: 187

- GSA:45

- Cuba: 725

- India: 157

- Mexico: 30

- New Zealand : 6

- GTI:5

- UWI:10

- USSR: 35

- China: 9

- Colombia: 6

- Brazil: 5

Cost of Awards

- Medicine : US$26,000

- Engineering : US$ 24,800

- Dentistry : US$ 27,800

- Agriculture US$ 18,000

- Management G$ 1,250

COMMENTS

The information provided by the Office of the Minister, PSM does not allow for the examination of the ethnic, or gender, of academic scholarship awardees of the GOG. While the procedures employed appear to be transparent there is no way of being certain without the necessary information.

Because of the perception among the general Guyanese public that there is discrimination along ethnic lines in the process of awarding academic scholarships by the GOG, it should have been in the interest of the PSM to provide all necessary information to remove all suspicions that exist in the minds of the general public.

Outside of the PSM providing the information relative to the ethnicity of the awardees, a list of the awardees' names and addresses would have given a general idea of ethnic distribution.

It is worthy of note here that the researcher was able to ascertain the ethnic distribution of recipients of Government of India's awards which are offered to the GOG and administered by the PSM. This will be further elaborated on in the section of the report dealing with Indian Government awards through its ITEC programme.

4.1.1.2 THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

(i) The Office of the President, through its Scholarship Section has responsibility for the selection of awardees for scholarships provided to the GOG through the GUYANA/CUBA JOINT COMMISSION, SPECIAL SCHOLOARSHIP AWARDS which began in 2002 when the GOG secured 350 scholarships, and continued in 2006 when another 715 awards in the field of Human Medicine, and an additional 205 in the fields of Agriculture Science and Engineering were received. After selection, the remaining aspects of managing the programme is passed over to the PSM.

(ii) Procedures for Accessing Awards

- Eligibility Criteria¹

Candidates must:

- have at least 5 subjects at the CSEC or GCE O'Level examinations which must include English, Mathematics and the relevant core subject(s)
- not be more than 25 years old at the time of applying;

¹ Criteria are as specified by the Cuban Government

- -be medically fit (supported by a medical certificate);
- -be residing in a less developed community.

NOTE: Priority is given to persons from low income families.

- Application and Selection Process
- Applications are invited from suitably qualified candidates by means of the national newspapers.
- Candidates then submit their applications to the Scholarship Section of the OP where those satisfying all requirements are short-listed.
- Short-listed candidates are interviewed by a broad-based panel of experts who thereafter award scholarships to the best candidates. (Please see Appendix ix) for the composition of the panel).

- Benefits

The Government of Cuba funds accommodation, meals, tuition for a period of six years inclusive of a period of one year for Spanish language training. The GOG funds the students' international travel and provides a stipend of CDN$50 per month per student.

- Obligations

Awardees are contractually committed to returning to Guyana after the completion of their studies to serve the GOG for a period of five years in a position and at a salary and other prevailing conditions at the particular time dictated by the PSM on behalf of the GOG.

Awardees' passports are endorsed with regard to contractual obligations.

(iii) Awards

Please see Appendix x for details of total number of awards and areas of studies for the period 2002 to 2006; Appendix xii for awards by Guyana's Administrative Regions; Appendix xiii for awards by gender.

COMMENTS

The information provided by OP while of a very high quality and detail did not give the researcher any way of determining the ethnic spread of awardees of Cuban scholarships. The explanation offered was that "ethnicity is not a consideration in the awarding of scholarships". While this may be so, there is a perception among the Afro-Guyanese population that it is. The refusal to provide the type of information that would have in some way contributed to the removal of that perception will rather have the effect of re-enforcing it. Repeated requests to the Office of the Permanent Secretary of OP for lists of names and addresses of awardees and unsuccessful applicants remain unacknowledged.

While the information provided does not lend itself to determining categorically that there was no ethnic bias in the award of the scholarships, it provides opportunity to determine whether there was bias according to gender and geographic location.

From the information provided it is clear that there was no bias in favour of geographic location. Appendix xi shows that the vast majority of the awardees in each year (2002 to 2006) are from Region 4 the region with the largest population in Guyana. The second, third and fourth largest groups hailed from Regions 6, 3 & 2 respectively with a combined total of 248 over the period which is less than the overall total for region 4 of 284.

With regard to gender, Appendix xii shows that for the overall period males outnumbered females. It was only in 2006 when the female awardees outnumbered their male counterparts.

This situation is clearly contrary to national trends where females out-perform males academically. The only explanation that can be drawn from these figures is that parents might generally be reluctant to send their daughters to study in Cuba.

A clearer understanding of what these figures mean would have been had if ethnicity information or at least the names of awardees had been forthcoming

4.1.1.3 Awards Offered Under ITEC

(i) ITEC is a Division of the Ministry of External Affairs of the GOI and is responsible for the implementation of its economic cooperation programme that targets fellow developing countries. Training constitutes the main component of the programme and accounts for over 40% of the annual budget.

Guyanese have benefited from a number of training opportunities provided through ITEC. The programme in Guyana is administered by the PSM on behalf of the GOG.

While the bulk of the awards are offered to pursue short term programmes (twelve weeks or less), there are a few opportunities for longer term programmes at the under-graduate and post-graduate levels.

(ii) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships

-The Government of Guyana is awarded 40 slots annually (previously 35) and the PSM, in keeping with Guyana's developmental needs selects from the information provided through the High Commission of India, the most relevant programmes.

-The PSM circulates this information to the Heads of appropriate Ministries and Government Departments, requesting nominations.

-Nominees follow the standard procedures for applying for awards through the PSM which processes the applications accordingly.

- Benefits

The GOI bears all associated costs including round trip airfare, tuition fees, living allowances, medical expenses, book grants and extra baggage allowance. (www.http://itec.nic.in)

- Obligations

The obligations of awardees under this programme are governed by those established under the rules of the PSM.

(iii) Awards

-Based on the information provided by the PSM one hundred and fifty seven (157) scholarships were awarded to Guyanese under the ITEC programme during the period 2003 to 2006. As mentioned earlier no further details were forthcoming from the Ministry.

However while researching the matter of ethnicity issues in Guyana on the world wide web the consultant discovered an article authored by Dr. Prem Misir, Pro-Chancellor, University of Guyana, titled "Defining The Indian Diaspora Agenda In the Caribbean" (www.uog.edu.gy/files/documents/prochancellor/). In the section of the article dealing with India's educational connection to the Caribbean, Misir states, "Through scholarships and other forms of educational assistance, India continues to reach out to the Diaspora, including Caribbean Indians; In fact India has reached out to Caribbean non-Indians too."

Misir went on to support this position by presenting statistical data reproduced in Table 1

Table 1 : Indian Staff Development Scholarships to Guyana

Years	2000	2001	2002	2003	2004	2005	Total	%
Ethnicity
Africans	6	6	1	3	18	11	45	41
Indians	5	5	6	7	22	5	50	45
Others (mixed)	3	1	1	6	3	1	15	14
Total No. of Scholarships	14	12	8	16	43	17	110	100

Source: "Defining the Indian Diaspora Agenda" by Dr.Prem Misir, P.7
It is worthy of note here that Dr. Misir cited The PSM as his source for the data outlined in the table.

Notwithstanding this however, the data aids the discussion, (though it seems to be at variance with that provided by the PSM) in showing, at least in this category, that awards were granted equitably. However what needs to be examined is whether other ethnic groups were equally nominated and if all nominees were awarded scholarships. The current system where it is left up to the heads of department alone to nominate persons provides scope for bias one way or the other.

4.1.1.4 Scholarships Offered Through the OAS

(i) The OAS, of which Guyana is a member, is a grouping of Nations of the Western Hemisphere that focuses on, among other things, "confronting shared problems such as poverty..." (http://www.oas.org/key issues/eng/Keylssue Detail.asp?Kis se c=20). In its Strategic Plan for Partnership for Development the OAS states its principal goal as being to "support member states in their efforts to reduce poverty and inequity, to provide equality of opportunities and to eradicate extreme poverty through building human capacity and strengthening institutions"

(http://www.oas.org/key_issues/eng/KeyIssue_Detail.asp?kis_sec =19). The provision of academic scholarship opportunities to individuals of member states is one of the many means used by the OAS to achieve this goal.

(ii) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships

- Eligibility Criteria

The following factors are considered when awarding scholarships:

- the objectives and priorities established in the Strategic Plan for Partnership and Development;
- -the training priorities of member states;
- -the merits and overall credentials of the candidate including his/her academic and professional background;
- -the financial need of the candidate;
- -an extensive and equitable geographic distribution for the benefit of all member states and that takes into account the greater needs of the smaller and relatively less developed countries.

- Application and Selection Process
- -The OAS Permanent Office in Guyana receives information on the announcement of scholarships from the General Secretariat (GS) which it passes on to the NLO (Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Foreign Trade and International Cooperation). The NLO in turn passes the information over to the PSM who administers the process on behalf of the GOG.
- -The PSM advertises in the national media for applications from qualified Guyanese citizens.
- -Applications are received and recorded by the PSM.
- -The PSM ensures that applications meet the eligibility criteria and then passes them on to a pre-selection committee made up of representatives of (a) OAS HQ; (b) OAS Permanent Mission in Guyana; (c) NLO; (d) PSM
- The pre-selected applications are forwarded, through the Permanent Mission, to the Scholarship Selection Committee at OAS HQ where scholarship awards are made.

-The G S publishes, on the OAS website, the list of scholarship awardees by name and nationality (the GS also publishes the particulars of pre-selected applicants on its website).

Benefits

Awardees receive funds to cover, in full or in part, university tuition and mandatory fees, international travel to and from the place of study, health insurance, living expenses, the purchase of books and other study materials, and for a dissertation or for other work required for graduation.

-Obligations

Each awardee must:

- -fulfill all requirements of the programme for which the scholarship was awarded;
- -observe the laws of the host country and the regulations of the place of study or research;

-return to reside in his/her sponsoring country upon completion of studies. (In the case of Guyana this follows the standard PSM procedures).

(iii) Awards (2002-2006)

No information was available for the period prior to 2002.

As mentioned previously, information on awards/awardees of scholarships administered by the PSM was not forthcoming. An attempt to access the information from the Ministry of Foreign Trade and International Cooperation was just as unsuccessful. Therefore, the consultant was forced to go directly to the OAS HQ in Washington which quite readily provided a list of recipients of scholarship awards for the period 2002 to 2006. (Please see Appendix xiii). Details concerning institution, field of study and level of qualification were however not received.

COMMENTS

An examination of the procedures for accessing awards provided through the OAS shows that it is quite transparent up to a point. The stage prior to submission to the pre-selection committee provides scope for abuse. Access to the applications received prior to pre-selection could have been quite instructive.

A perusal of the list of recipients indicates an ethnic distribution of awardees (based on names which may not be 100% accurate) with 50% Afro-Guyanese, 26 % Indo-Guyanese and the remaining 23% mixed. This could be explained by the fact that Afro-Guyanese more than any other ethnicity satisfied one of the requirements of "financial need" or that the majority of applications were from Afro-Guyanese, or that the applications from Afro-Guyanese met all OAS criteria.

With regard to gender, females outnumber males (consistent with national trends in the field of academics).

NOTE: The reason for elaborating on the scholarships provided through the OAS and the Governments of India and Cuba was because more information was readily available for these programmes.

4.1.1.5. GUYANA SUGAR CORPORATION (GUYSUCO)

(i) GUYSUCO is one of the largest employers in Guyana and is also a major contributor to its GDP. GUYSUCO boasts a cadre of highly qualified and competent professional and technical persons, a result, at least in part, of its policy of awarding academic scholarships to persons on its staff and those not yet on staff, inherited from its predecessor Bookers Sugar Estates Ltd.(BSEL).

(ii)From 1997-2002 GUYSUCO's scholarship programme was executed along the lines of BSEL's policy, which was simply to provide pre-appointment and post-appoinment training opportunities through its cadet and employee development scheme.

CADET SCHEME

Under this scheme GUYSUCO sought mainly professional and technical cadets who were trained to become accountants and personnel managers or enter the field of science, Engineering, Agriculture and Sugar Technology.

- Procedures for Participating in the Scheme
- *Eligibility Criteria: Applicants had to satisfy the basic requirements for entry into any University.

Training in the field of Agriculture was provided at the undergraduate and diploma levels.

At the undergraduate level candidates were required to possess at least 5 GCE "O" Level subjects and 3 at GCE "A" Level. English Language, Mathematics and Science subjects were required among the subjects obtained at either level.

At the Diploma level nominees were chosen from among persons employed on estates who showed some aptitude for agricultural work.

Successful selectees were sent to either the GSA or the Eastern Caribbean Institute of Agriculture and Forestry (ECIAF) to pursue a two-year programme.

The academic requirement to attend the GSA or the ECIAF was 5 subjects at the GCE "O" Level including English Language and a Science subject and mathematics in the case of the ECIAF.

- Application and Selection Process

After determining the number of cadets to be selected in any one year, the company would publicly invite applications.

Completed application forms together with birth certificates and certificates of academic qualifications were sent to the Personnel Director.

(iii) In the post 2003 period GUYSUCO's policy was virtually the same except that it was incumbent on each employee to take responsibility for his/her development which is separate and apart from the company provided training and development.

- The Cadetship Scheme

Here, GUYSUCO seeks mainly professional and technical cadets to fill senior and middle-management positions based on the projected needs of the organization. Unlike the pre-2003 period, awards are granted at the post-graduate and undergraduate (including diploma and certificate) levels.

- Procedures for Accessing an Award
- Eligibility Criteria
- -Post Graduate Level

Candidates seeking awards at this level must possess:

- acceptance at an approved university;
- at least on year's service with the organisation;
- performance acceptable to the company (based on annual performance appraisal).

External candidates must satisfy the academic requirements of an approved University and successfully serve a pre-cadetship period of one year.

- Undergraduate Level

External and Internal candidates must satisfy the academic requirements determined by GUYSUCO and successfully serve the corporation for at least one year prior to proceeding to study.

Internal candidates who have served the corporation satisfactorily for three years or more are not required to serve the one year pre-cadetship period of attachment.

- Application and Selection Process
- offers are advertised either internally or externally depending on the discipline;
- applications are submitted through the Estates to Head Office for processing (external applications are submitted directly to Head Office);
- the Personnel Division at Head office short-lists the best applications based on the established criteria;
- short-listed candidates are interviewed by a panel (comprising appropriate GUYSUCO representatives) which recommends candidates for awards;
- recommendations are forwarded to the Chief Executive Officer, through the Human Resources Director, for final approval.

(iv) Awards (1997 -2006)

For the period 1997 to 2006 GUYSUCO awarded 134 academic scholarships tenable at institutions in and out of Guyana at a total cost of six hundred and twenty million dollars ($620M) broken down as follows: 1997: $1,040,000; 1998; $171,533; 1999: $61,947; 2000: $79,604; 2001: $36,037; 2002: $46, 787; 2003: $160,355; 2004: 43,340; 2006: $10,969 (Please see Appendix iv for details).

The information provided shows that 49% of the awards were granted to pursue studies at the BSc level, 41% at the diploma level, and the remaining 10% distributed among post-graduate, certificate, etc. The vast majority of the awardees pursued studies in Agriculture and Engineering.

With regard to gender 122 were male reflecting the male dominance of the workforce. The question here is whether women are not encouraged to join the workforce or whether there is no interest.

Regarding race/ethnicity, 62% of the awards were given to Indo-Guyanese; 29% Afro-Guyanese and the remainder undeterminable. (The method used to determine ethnicity was based on the names of awardees).

Historically Indo Guyanese have dominated the sugar industry which could explain the distinctive bias in the award of academic scholarships. Interestingly, of the total number of Afro-Guyanese awarded scholarships 59% pursued studies leading to a bachelor's degree compared to 43% for Indo-Guyanese. The larger percentage of Indo-Guyanese pursuing studies leading to a diploma from the GSA, could be attributed to the method of selection. The method of selecting candidates who "showed aptitude for agricultural work" is somewhat subjective and lends itself to abuse.

COMMENTS

Overall, the system used for awarding scholarships appears for the most part to be fair. The ethnic and gender distribution is reflective of the employee profile of the organization. Nonetheless there are two areas of concern in the selection process i.e. (i) Final approval for awarding scholarships resting with the CEO alone and (ii) the method used for selecting candidates to pursue the diploma in agriculture at the GSA.

4.1.1.6 GUYANA GEOLOGY & MINES COMMISSION (GGMC)

(i) The GGMC was created in 1979 and is concerned with the regulation of Guyana's mining sector. The commission is comprised of 5 divisions to carry out its role viz: Geological Services, Mines; Environment and Petroleum. The Administrative and Financial Divisions support the other three in the discharge of their functions.

(ii) Policy for awarding Academic Scholarships

The GGMC, in keeping with its human resource needs awards academic scholarships to eligible persons.

Scholarship opportunities are provided annually for attendance at the University of Guyana.

(iii) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships

_Eligibility Criteria

Candidates are required to possess the basic UG academic requirements of 5 passes at the CSEC inclusive of English Language, and Mathematics, depending on the field of study.

- Application and Selection Process
- applications are invited from suitably qualified persons through advertisements in the national media,
- eligible applicants are short-listed by the Personnel

 Department of the GGMC with input from other relevant department heads;

- short-listed candidates are interviewed by a panel comprising personnel and other appropriate staff of the GGMC. Once the panel is satisfied with the candidates' suitability, scholarships are awarded.

- Benefits

- the award covers the cost of tuition, book allowance, and a monthly stipend;
- awardees attaining a grade point average of 3.0 and above receive an additional incentive.

- Obligations

- beneficiaries are required to sign a contract to serve the GGMC for five years on completion of their studies.

(iv) Awards

Table 2 : No. Of Scholarships Awarded by GGMC (1997-2006)

Indian	4	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	3	10	33
Total	8	0	0	3	0	0	0	7	0	13	31	100

Table:2 shows that for the period 1997 to 2006 GGMC awarded 31 academic scholarships of which 67% went to Afro-Guyanese and 33% to Indo-Guyanese. This is reflective of the ethnic composition of the staff at the organization. Historically, the mining sector tended to attract more Afro-Guyanese in the same way that the sugar industry tended to attract more Indo-Guyanese. Another study should be conducted to explain this phenomenon.

Table 3 : Institution, Level of Qualification, Field of Study (GGMC Awardees)

Table 3 shows that with regard to level and field of study there is no marked preference based on ethnicity.

COMMENTS

The system employed by the GGMC is quite transparent and seems fair. The disparity in ethnic distribution, as stated before is reflective of the ethnic composition of the workforce.

No information was provided on gender.

4.1.1.7 GUYANA POWER AND LIGHT (GPL)

(i) The GPL is Guyana's premier supplier of electricity services. Its stated mission is "To provide an expanding customer base with electricity services which are technically, financially and environmentally sustainable, achieving best practice and acceptable international norms, delivered by our people performing in accordance with company values to the highest ideals of work excellence..." (http://www.gplinc.com/)

To facilitate this mission, GPL embraces a policy where any Guyanese citizen within a specified age group, who possesses the necessary qualifications, and is willing to serve the company, is provided scholarship opportunities to advance their career objectives. These opportunities are accessible not only to current employees but to qualified members of the general public.

(ii) Procedures for Accessing the Opportunities

- Eligibility
- candidates must have completed training in a field compatible with GPL's long or short term goals.
- Application and Selection Process
- applications on a standard form are completed and submitted (with all relevant certifications attached) to the Training and Development Manager;
- the applications are forwarded to the *Human Resources*Director for further processing and selection of suitable candidates;
- the HR Director forwards the selected applications to the Board of Directors for final approval;
- awardees are put through an established screening process to further determine their suitability by under-going a period of onthe-job training for six months before commencing studies.
- Benefits
- GPL funds the cost of tuition.

- Obligations
- Awardees are required to serve the GPL for a period so specified by the Company.

(iii) Awards (2002-2005)

Information has been provided for the period 2002 to 2006 where nineteen (19) academic scholarships were awarded. All awards were tenable at the University of Guyana. Eight (8) were granted to pursue studies at the Bachelor's level and the remainder at the Diploma level.

COMMENTS

From the gender perspective, Table 4 shows that there is an overwhelming bias in favour of males. However, this could be explained by the nature of the organization whose functions require the services of more males for its core operations. This is supported by the fact that of the four (4) female awardees two (2) pursued studies in non-engineering fields.

Of the nineteen (19) scholarships awarded, the Table shows that thirteen (13) or 67% went to Afro-Guyanese which again reflects the dominance of that ethnic group in the workforce.

Although the process for awarding scholarships appears generally to be transparent, there is yet scope for abuse at the stage where the Human Resources Director is solely responsible for recommending awardees for approval by the Board of Directors. In the interest of transparency, the HR Director alone should not be vested with this responsibility.

4.1.1.8 GUYANA ENERGY AUTHORITY (GEA)

(i)The GEA is responsible for ensuring the rational and efficient use of imported petroleum-based energy sources, while encouraging, where economically feasible and environmentally acceptable, increased utilization of renewable energy sources.

(ii) Policy for Awarding Academic Scholarships

The organizations policy on awarding academic scholarships is limited to facilitating staff members who initiate their own career development programmes.

(iii) Procedures for Benefiting Under These Arrangements

- -the respective staff member identifies appropriate courses/programmes; applies and gains acceptance at the appropriate institutions and is released with full pay to pursue his/her studies;
- candidates are not required to serve the GEA upon successful completion of their studies but are free to either return to the GEA or serve in any other organization in Guyana as their contribution to national development.

(iv) Awards (1997-2006)

Under this system, for the period 1997 to 2006 twenty nine (29) members of staff were released to pursue a wide range of training programmes including participation at workshops, and academic studies in and out of Guyana. (please see Appendix xv for details).

Among the institutions attended by sponsored staff members were: UG, GTI, Global Accountancy, The Business School, Board of Engineers of Trinidad & Tobago, Hongzon Regional Centre (Asia-Pacific) for Small Hydro Power, Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (Indian Govt), University of Calgary, Canada, Institute of Business, UWI.

Areas of study included Management, Accounting, Economics, Information Technology, Sustainable Energy Development, Environment, Engineering, Secretarial Studies, etc.

The levels of study included Degrees (7) (undergraduate (4) and post-graduate (3)); Diplomas (13) and Certificates (26).

Ethnic Distribution

Of the twenty nine (29) members of staff benefiting under this system seventeen (17) or 58% were Afro-Guyanese; nine (9) or 30% were Indo-Guyanese and the remaining four (4) or 12% were mixed¹.

¹ The information on ethnicity was provided by the GEA

COMMENTS

The information as outlined in the foregoing shows that the organisation's system for facilitating staff development is quite unique in Guyana and probably works well because of the small size of the organization.

The types of training facilitated and the system for such facilitation shows clearly that all employees are given the same opportunities to benefit.

The high number of Afro-Guyanese is indicative of the ethnic composition of the staff, at least at the middle and lower levels of the organization.

The gender distribution of seventeen (17) females and twelve (12) males is acceptable given the nature of programmes/courses as listed in Appendix xvi.

4.1.1.9 Guyana Lands & Surveys Commission (GLSC)

(i) Policy on Providing Academic Scholarships

The policy focuses on providing academic scholarship awards to those persons identified to take up Management positions within the organization.

Lower level workers identify and gain admission to programmes/courses relevant to the operations of the organization and the GLSC finances and provides time-off to pursue them.

(ii) The Programme

The GLSC Human Resource Development Plan is budgeted for annually.

- Eligibility Criteria
- staff members benefit under the HR development plan based on their years of service with the organization and their appropriate academic qualifications.
- Benefits
- GLSC funds the cost of programmes/courses and grants timeoff to approved staff members.

-Obligations

Beneficiaries are contracted to serve the organization for periods ranging from two and one half to five years after successfully completing their studies.

(iil) Awards (2002-2006)

Appendix xvi sets out complete details on the beneficiaries under GLSC's HR Development Programme. It is quite obvious that there is a concentration on short courses conducted inhouse and by the PSM.

COMMENTS

While the information provided is very much appreciated, the fact that it is focused on in-house and similar types of training is not strictly in sync with the general thrust of the research.

Nevertheless it is worthy of note that the information provided shows that all staff have equal access to training opportunities and benefit therefrom regardless of gender or ethnicity.

4.1.1.10 ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

From a telephone conversation with the Executive Director, EPA, the researcher got the impression that the entity provided opportunities to members of staff to access academic scholarships. However, the information provided did not support this.

Rather, the information provided in the completed questionnaire advised that the "Agency did not award scholarships, staff benefited from workshops and short courses."

The PSM rules governing GOG awards are used to select individuals to participate in the workshops.

No other information was provided.

4.1.1.11 THE UNIVERSITY OF GUYANA (UG)

(I) Policy on the Award of Academic Scholarships

UG provides opportunities for academic scholarships at two levels: a) waivers of tuition fees for staff and certain dependents and, b) Scholarships and fellowships offered by the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU).

(ii) The Programmes

- a) Waiver of Tuition Fees for Staff and Certain Dependents.
- Procedures for Accessing Waivers
- Eligibility Criteria
- •The staff member must have completed a minimum of four (4) years permanent, full-time paid resident service without a break.
- •Dependents include: i) a natural child of a permanent full-time employee under the age of twenty one (21) years at September 1 in the year of the first registration; b) the legal spouse of a permanent full-time employee.

In both cases applications must be supported by the requisite documentation including the basic requirements for entry into UG.

-Application and Selection Process

The staff member is required to indicate on the UG Student Application Form the department in which he/she is employed. The Head of Department must approve the application. Once the staff member's/dependent's admission to the programme applied for is approved, he/she is then required to complete a request for waiver form. Provided that the staff member /dependent satisfies all of the requirements, the application is approved by the Administration.

- a) ACU Scholarships and Fellowships
- (i) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships
- · Eligibility Criteria

These are established by the various Commonwealth member countries offering scholarships in any particular year.

- Application and Selection Process
- Information on ACU offers is circulated among the various faculties which are invited to submit nominees to either the Deputy Vice-Chancellor or Registrar. The Deputy Vice-Chancellor/Registrar meets with the Committee of Deans to select awardees based on criteria established by the countries offering scholarships/fellowships in a given year, the candidate's/nominee's profile, and the needs of the University. Nominations are forwarded to the governing body in the particular Commonwealth country offering the award for final selection.

Candidates nominated by UG have to compete with those from other Commonwealth countries.

(iii) Awards (Waivers and ACU Scholarships 1997-2006)

Table 5 shows that for the period under review UG awarded a total of one thousand and two (1002) waivers and seven (7) ACU scholarships (please see Appendix xvii for details). The figure representing total waivers is somewhat mis-leading because of the system of awarding waivers each academic year, rather than have them automatically continue throughout the duration of the programmes. For example, on the list of names of beneficiaries provided, one pursuing a four year programme is recorded as having received a waiver in each of those four years.

Table 5: Scholarships awarded by UG (1997-2006)

Year	Waivers	ACU Awards
1997	Not offered	Nil
1998	Not offered	1
1999	129	2
2000	150	Nil
2001	148	Nil
2002	128	1
2003	133	Nil
2004	126	1
2005	114	2
2006	94	Nil
Total	1002	7

COMMENTS

A perusal of the lists at Appendix xviii indicates that the vast majority of beneficiaries of waivers tend to be Afro-Guyanese. It would be very fair to suggest, in the absence of any other kind of evidence that the ethnic profile of the staff of the institution is responsible for this.

However, an examination of the seven persons who benefited under the ACU programme (based on names) are all afro-Guyanese. While this may appear to be deliberate, the process for accessing these awards as elaborated in the foregoing allows all eligible staff members to benefit. Because the process is quite competitive, it is the best of the lot that are awarded these scholarships throughout the British Commonwealth.

4.1.1.12 HINTERLAND SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMME (MINISTRY OF AMERINDIAN AFFAIRS)

(i) The Hinterland Scholarship Programme was established by the Government of Guyana to provide students from hinterland communities of Guyana with quality secondary and/or technical education which they otherwise would not be able to access in their communities. The programme also aims to provide the opportunity for the integration of hinterland students into the wider Guyanese society.

The programme falls under the purview of the Ministry of Amerindian Affairs since, it was initially established as "The Amerindian Scholarship Programme" and catered exclusively to Guyanese of Amerindian ancestry. However, the changing demographics of Guyana's interior locations have made it necessary to change the focus group to reflect this reality.

(ii) The programme offers two types of scholarships: a) Secondary School; b) Technical Scholarships to students from Regions 1, 7(with the exception of Bartica), 8 and 9, and all Amerindian and riverain communities in Regions 2, 3, 4,5,6 and 10.

a) Secondary Schools Scholarship

This aspect of the programme caters to students who would have completed the Secondary Schools Entrance Examination (now Grade 6 Assessment) in any given year.

The scholarships are awarded at two levels viz: Regional and National.

The Regional Scholarships allow students to attend secondary schools within their regions of origin while the National Scholarships allow students to attend secondary schools on the coast.

To be eligible for a Regional Scholarship, the student must attain a score of no less than 470 and no more than 480 at the SSEE, while for the National Scholarship, the student needs a score in excess of 480 to qualify

- Application and Selection Process

a) Secondary School Scholarships

Beneficiaries are not required to apply for these scholarships. Rather, they are selected by the Ministry of Amerindian Affairs based on their performance at the SSEE.

The Ministry obtains information on students' performance from the Examinations Division, Ministry of Education, and awards scholarships accordingly.

b) Technical Scholarships

Applications are submitted to the Ministry of Amerindian Affairs where they are assessed by the appropriate staff members and selected for an award based on qualifications, acceptance at the appropriate institution and geographical spread.

Technical Scholarships are awarded on a residual basis and are considered after all of the secondary scholarships are awarded in a given year.

-Benefits

The GOG covers the costs of tuition (where relevant), boarding and lodging, uniforms, annual traveling to and from the interior, examination fees, and medical expenses. The GOG also contributes to the costs incurred for school projects and CSEC School Based Assessments (SBAs)

- Obligations

Awardees are expected to maintain an overall average of 65% throughout the duration of the scholarship. In the case of the Secondary School Programme, this is five years and in the Technical category, from one to three years.

Awardees are also expected to participate in all national and extracurricular activities of the Ministry of Amerindian Affairs.

(iii) Awards (1997 to 2006)

Table 6 shows that, for the period under review the GOG awarded four hundred and fifty six (456) Hinterland Scholarships of which two hundred and seventy two (272) or 60% were in the Secondary School Programme and one hundred and eighty four (184) or 40% in the Technical Programme.

Table 6: Hinterland Scholarship Awards (1997-2006)

2006	38	23	15	14	24
Grand
Total	456	184	272	195	261

Awards under the SS programme were tenable at schools at all levels of the secondary school system with the majority at the Junior Secondary level. In the Technical category awardees generally attended such institutions as the GSA, GTI, Carnegie

School of Home Economics, GITC and a small number attended

UG (please see Appendix xviii).

COMMENTS

A perusal of the lists of awardees under the *Hinterland Scholarship*Programme at Appendix xix indicates a mixture of ethnicities(based on names) reflecting the populations of Guyana's hinterland Regions. Naturally, because they comprise the bulk of the population in these areas, awardees of pure and mixed Amerindian ancestry pre-dominate.

On the question of gender, males received 43% of the awards while females received 57%. It was only in one year, 2000, that the males outnumbered the females and then, by only one. This does not reflect a policy favouring females but rather, it is in keeping with the national trend which tends to suggest that females, in general, out-perform their male counterparts in things academic. It is worthy of note that in the Technical awards males out-numbered females.

Of the one hundred and eighty four (184) awarded, one hundred and ten (110) went to males.

The process used to select scholarship awardees in the Secondary School Programme does not lend itself to manipulation at the level of the MAA since it is based purely on SSEE scores achieved by students over which the MAA has no control. Any manipulation of the system could be easily identified and quickly dealt with.

The process for selecting awardees in the Technical category is not so transparent, and could easily be manipulated given the limited number of scholarships available. However, the consultant has not seen any evidence of such manipulation.

4.1.2 PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANISATIONS

(i)Five private sector organizations were given questionnaires but completed formswere returned by only two. Those returning completed questionnaires were (a) Banks DIH Ltd. and (b) Guyana Telephone and Telegraph Co. Ltd.

4.1.2.1 BANKS DIH LTD.

(i) Banks DIH Ltd. is one of Guyana's oldest and largest food and beverage manufacturers with an excellent record of human resource management that includes comprehensive staff development programmes.

(ii) Policy on Awarding Academic Scholarships

The organisation's policy on awarding academic scholarships to suitably qualified staff members is in keeping with its current and future human resource needs.

(iii) Procedures for Accessing Scholarships

- Banks HR needs are determined at the level of Heads of Departments. Suitable individuals are identified and recommended by departmental heads and approved by a committee of Executive Directors.
- Eligibility Criteria
- Candidates must satisfy the entry requirements of the UG.
- Candidates must have a minimum of 2 years service in the relevant area.

- Benefits

Banks DIH bears the total cost of tuition while beneficiaries continue to receive their full salary through out the period of study.

- Obligations

Awardees are required to serve the company for 5 years after successful completion of their studies.

(iv) Awards (1997-2006)

Table 7 shows that for the period 1997-2006 Banks DIH Ltd awarded twenty five (24) academic scholarships tenable at UG with the exception of two. Of the twenty four (24) awardees, three (3) were Indo- Guyanese; eight (8) Afro-Guyanese; and thirteen (13) Mixed. (Information provided by the company).

Gender-wise, there is a preponderance of males (86% or 20). This statistic seems to reflect the gender profile of the staff employed in the core operations (factory) of the organization. Of the three female beneficiaries, two pursued studies in non-technical areas.

COMMENTS

The process followed by Banks DIH in the award of academic scholarships to their employees seems quite fair and transparent. The ethnic distribution is reflective of the ethnic composition of the workforce as is the gender distribution.

4.1.2.2 GUYANA TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO. LTD. (GT&T)

(i) GT&T is Guyana's leading telecommunications company and launched its scholarship programme in 2006. Consequently only one year could have been examined to determine the equity of access.

(ii) Policy on Awarding Academic Scholarships

GT&T's policy on awarding academic scholarships is to provide opportunities to first year students of UG in the field of Engineering or Computer Science based on merit and financial need.

(ili) The Programme

As mentioned before, the programme was launched in 2006 and offers four scholarships for four consecutive years each to UG first year students in the afore-mentioned disciplines.

(iv) Procedures for Accessing Awards

- Eligibility Criteria
- Candidates must:
- a) demonstrate a commitment to the development of Guyana;
- b) be a first year student at the UG;
- c) be no more than 25 years old;
- d) be a Guyanese resident domiciled in Guyana for the last five years;
- e) demonstrate the need for financial assistance;
- f) have a minimum of five CSEC subjects with grades one and two;
- g) be committed to extra-curricular activities.
- Application and Selection Process
- GT&T's advertising agent works with the Ministry of education to promote the scholarship programme to Fifth and Sixth Form students throughout Guyana.
- Candidates are required to complete a prescribed application form for submission to the GT&T or UG.

- GT&T Marketing Department examines applications to ensure their compliance with stated requirements.
- A panel comprising representatives of GT&T and UG short-lists the most suitable applicants and invites them for an interview.
- -Candidates are selected for awards based on their performance at the interview in conjunction with other stated eligibility criteria.
- Benefits
- GT&T funds the entire cost for tuition for four years.

(V) Awards (2006)

The total number of applications received by GT&T was fourteen (14). The ethnicity of the ten unsuccessful applicants was five Afro and five Indo Guyanese. While they all met the eligibility requirements performance at the interview was the deciding factor in this very competitive process.

The ethnic composition of those awarded scholarships was as follows; Indo-Guyanese 2; Afro-Guyanese 1; Mixed 1.

Gender-wise, two each of male and female were awarded scholarships.

As the programme got started only one year ago there is no trend to analyse.

COMMENTS

The processes employed by GT&T in administering their scholarship award programme appears to be quite transparent and equitable. It is just unfortunate that only four scholarships are available making the contest quite competitive. The process does not seem to have much scope for abuse.

5.0 FINDINGS

5.1 Introduction

As alluded to in other parts of the report the researcher encountered much unexpected difficulties in accessing requisite information for the conduct of the research, especially from the main GOG organizations, PSM and OP.

Consequently the outcome has not been as enlightening as was desired. Nevertheless some useful conclusions have been drawn from the information that was received, for which the researcher is quite grateful.

5.2 Equity in the Access of Academic Scholarships in Guyana

As stated in the Introduction of the Report, EQUITY was considered from the perspectives of gender and ethnicity.

Although the TOR had indicated other aspects the lack of detailed information from those submitting completed questionnaires forced the researcher to limit the scope to gender and ethnicity.

5.2.1 Gender

The research found that in all organizations examined, the procedures and processes followed for accessing academic scholarship awards in Guyana provides for equality of opportunity regardless of gender. There is no indication from any of the entities that there are deliberate policies to ensure such gender equity.

It is only in male dominated organizations such as GUYSUCO, BANKS DIH LTD., GPL and the Guyana Lands and Surveys Commission where it appears that males are preferred over females. The question is why is there such a stark gender imbalance in these types of organizations when quite a number of programmes/projects had been commissioned to train women in non-traditional areas? A study, not necessarily by the ERC should be undertaken to examine this phenomenon.

5.2.2 Ethnicity

It cannot be over-emphasised that the lack of information from the two main organizations responsible for administering left the analysis somewhat incomplete. This is so because, in the minds of the general public, equality of opportunity in accessing academic scholarships does not exist. Whether there is any justification for this perception could only be ascertained by examining all pertinent information.

If the findings by Dr. Prem Misir, on the ethnic distribution of awardees under the ITEC programme are considered, then, there is a strong possibility that the perceptions of inequality may be unfounded.

Generally, from the available information examined on other organizations' procedures and processes, the researcher must conclude that there is considerable equality of opportunity in the award of academic scholarships in Guyana.

6.0 RECOMMENDATIONS

6.1 Authority of the ERC to Demand Information

The researcher is of the view that the work of the ERC would be much enhanced if the organisation is given the authority to demand information through appropriate legislation.

6.2 Management Information Systems

The refrain that "records are not stored according to ethnicity" suggests that, in light of Guynan's ethnic realities, some serious attention should be given by organisations in the Public and Private Sectors, to collecting and storing information on employees' ethnicities in all areas.

It may be argued that in a small society like Guyana this would not be necessary. However, the need to store information in this form becomes apparent when exercises such as this one are being undertaken. Further, the ready availability of this kind of information to decision makers could help shape relevant policies aimed at promoting racial/ethnic harmony in the Guyanese society.

6.3 Access to Public Information

The difficulties experienced in accessing public information that would have allowed a much more meaningful examination of the equality of access to opportunities for academic scholarships by all eligible Guyanese brings into focus the need for the enactment of appropriate legislation.

PROPOSAL TO THE ETHNIC RELATIONS COMMISSION (ERC) IN GUYANA TO UNDERTAKE RESEARCH IN THE AWARD OF SCHOLARSHIPS TO DETERMINE WHETHER OR NOT THERE HAS BEEN AN EQUITABLE APPROACH TOWARDS ALL CONCERNED.

- 1. Consultant: Lyris Alicia Primo
- 2. Qualifications and Experience: Please see curriculum vitae submitted on Monday February 12, 2007
- 3. Outcome of Research: The outcome from the research is "a comprehensive report identifying existing activities, processes and procedures used to select eligible persons and comparatively assess whether or not there has been an equitable approach towards all concerned".
- 4. Scope of Work: Based on discussions with the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Ethnic Relations Commission the consultant will examine the following for the 10 year period 1997 to 2006:
 - (i) the availability of academic scholarships offered by the Government of Guyana (including the Hinterland Scholarship Programme), selected private sector companies, and some sections of the donor community (whether independently or as part of technical assistance to the Government of Guyana);
 - (ii) the eligibility requirements of applicants for the scholarships;
 - (iii) the decision making processes employed by the specified organisations in making the awards;
 - (iv) the various levels of studies for which awards were granted viz: certificate, diploma, graduate and post graduate degrees;
 - (v) areas of study for which awards were given (including ethnicity, age, gender; religion, socio-economic background of awardees);
 - (vi) institutions at which awards were tenable;
 - (vii) the costs of these awards (whether shared or wholly funded).

The consultant will also interview a representative sample of applicants who were unsuccessful in receiving awards.

5. The research will entail the preparation of questionnaires to be completed in meetings with (i) officials from the appropriate government ministry (ies)/agencies; private sector organizations and donor agencies to gather data on the processes and procedures employed in the award of academic scholarships in Guyana, and (ii) unsuccessful applicants. Secondary sources of information such as previous documented studies, either from the internet or other sources, will also be used.

The consultant will also give an overview of the history of scholarship awards in Guyana, the Government of Guyana's policy on awarding academic scholarships, ethnicity issues in Guyana, and the mandate of the (ERC).

Upon completion, the consultant will present three hard copies of the report to the ERC.

- 6. Duration of Research: Three months.
- 7. Fee: $1,000,000.00 (one million dollars).
- 8. Terms of Payment: 30% upon signing of contract; 30% upon submission of midterm report; 40% upon satisfactory completion and submission of final report.
