MOTION

ITEM 6 - CRIMINAL RESPONSIBILITY OF HIV INFECTED INDIVIDUALS

At the request of Mr. Everall Franklin, M.P. the following motion was deferred:

WHEREAS the fight against HIV and AIDS has been relentless especially during the past 15 years;

AND WHEREAS some success has been recorded throughout the country in reducing the instances of infection and transmission of HIV and AIDS;

AND WHEREAS educating the population is of utmost importance in the arsenal of weapons and/or measures required to combat this dreaded disease;

AND WHEREAS despite the best efforts of health care officials, religious organizations and NGOs in educating the population with respect to AIDS and HIV, infection rates are still disappointingly high;

AND WHEREAS persons, some knowingly, still infect others with the Human Immune Deficiency Virus, causing immense suffering and pain to the infected persons, their families, community at large along with increased cost to the health care system;

AND WHEREAS persons are not held responsible by law for knowingly transmitting this deadly virus to innocent victims;

15.

AND WHEREAS the confidentiality and non-discriminatory laws in place which protect persons affected with HIV and AIDS prevent disclosure of their identity, these persons are free to have unprotected sex with unsuspecting partners, thus further spreading the disease,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

That the criminal laws of Guyana under all relevant sections be amended, to make it an indictable offence for any person to transmit the virus to any other person, when they would have had prior knowledge of their infected status;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:

That non disclosure laws or guidelines be so amended to allow information to be used by the prosecution if so required;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:

That all agencies, clinics, hospitals which have the results of tests and other vital information be bound by law to release such information to any court engaged in a matter; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:

That the charge of attempted murder be instituted against any individual found to have endangered the life of another in the manner described above.
