

CHAPTER 194.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

[No. VI. of 1910.]

[28th May, 1910.]

Short title.

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Industrial Training Ordinance.

Interpretation.

2. In this Ordinance, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“the Board” means the board of industrial training established under this Ordinance;

“master” means any master tradesman whom the Board has licensed to receive apprentices under this Ordinance, and includes any partnership, firm or company;

“apprentice” means any person apprenticed under this Ordinance.

Appointment of Board.

3.—(1) There shall be appointed from time to time by the Governor fit persons not exceeding ten to be a board of industrial training, three of whom shall be skilled in and actually engaged in one or more of the trades to which boys may be apprenticed under this Ordinance.

(2) Every appointment shall be for a term of three years, but for any reasonable cause may be revoked by the Governor before the expiration of that term. During the temporary absence of any member of the Board, the Governor may appoint some fit person to act in his stead.

(3) No business shall be transacted at any meeting of the Board unless at least five of its members be present.

(4) The Governor shall from time to time appoint one of the members to be chairman of the Board.

Incorporation of Board.

4. The Board shall be a body corporate by the name of The Board of Industrial Training, and may sue and be sued by that name.

5. The duties of the Board shall be—

Duties of the Board.

- (a) to licence and keep a register of masters whom it considers suitable to receive apprentices;
- (b) to issue certificates of efficiency to those artisans who are in its opinion qualified to be engaged in any trade or craft to which this Ordinance applies and to keep a register of the artisans;
- (c) to fix the period of apprenticeship for the different trades to which this Ordinance applies;
- (d) to procure the training by competent masters, and keep a register, of apprentices, to any trade or craft to which this Ordinance applies;
- (e) to cause to be examined, and if satisfied with their skill, to issue certificates to apprentices on the completion of their term of service;
- (f) to cancel licences and certificates issued under this Ordinance, when in its opinion it is necessary so to do;
- (g) to settle disputes arising between masters and apprentices, and to transfer apprentices when desirable;
- (h) to arrange and direct the technical education of apprentices;
- (i) to appoint and pay the masters and examiners whom it considers necessary.

6. The Board may demand and receive any sum not exceeding two dollars for every licence and certificate of efficiency issued under this Ordinance, and the money so received shall be part of the funds of the Board.
