Housing of subordinate fire officers and firemen.

12. Subordinate fire officers and firemen who are regular members shall reside in such quarters as may be provided for them by Government at stations, barracks or elsewhere, and when no such quarters are available they may be allowed such sum as the Governor may approve for housing accommodation, such accommodation to be approved by the Chief Fire Officer.

Restrictions on use of housing accommodation.

13. (1) Subject to paragraph (2) of this regulation, where quarters are provided by Government only the wife and children of a subordinate fire officer or fireman may reside with him in the quarters so provided:

Provided that the Chief Fire Officer may if he thinks fit permit any other relative to reside therein with such subordinate fire officer or fireman.

(2) Nothing in this regulation shall apply to a friend or relative of a subordinate fire officer or fireman residing with him temporarily if no charge is made in respect of such residence.

Canteens, shops and recreation rooms.

14. (1) No canteen, recreation room or shop shall be established in any unit except on the written authority of the Chief Fire Officer.

(2) The officer for the time being in charge of a unit shall be responsible to the Chief Fire Officer for the good management of all canteens, recreation rooms and shops established in such unit.

(3) Each canteen, recreation room and shop in a unit shall be under the direction of the officer in charge of the unit, and shall be managed by him with the assistance of a committee of members of the Brigade attached to the unit elected from among themselves.

(4) Intoxicating liquor may only be sold in any canteen, recreation room or shop during such hours and under such conditions as may be prescribed in Standing Orders.

(5) All canteen, recreation room or shop funds shall be deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank and shall be accounted for by the committee responsible for the management of the canteen, recreation room or shop.

15. No mess for the provision of food to members of the Brigade shall be established in any unit except on the written authority of the Chief Fire Officer.

16. (1) All fines imposed on members of the Brigade under or by virtue of any regulations made under the Ordinance shall be deducted from their pay and be promptly deposited by the Chief Fire Officer in the Post Office Savings Bank to the credit of an account entitled "The Fire Brigade Fine Fund," hereinafter referred to as "the Fund".

Fine Fund.

(2) The Chief Fire Officer shall cause a separate account of the Fund to be kept under the headings "capital account" and "income account", and he shall cause to be credited to the capital account one-half of the fines imposed and to the income account the other half of such fines together with all interest or dividends received from the Post Office Savings Bank or from any securities purchased with moneys belonging to the Fund:

Provided that, when, and so long as, the capital account has to its credit a total sum of not less than $500, the whole of the fines imposed shall be credited to the income account.

(3) The whole or any portion of any sum at the credit of the income account may be applied by the Chief Fire Officer —

- (i) to the cost of the upkeep of recreation rooms, sporting outfits and other recreational equipment and of amusements for subordinate fire officers and firemen;
- (ii) to the cost of providing books and newspapers for libraries for subordinate fire officers and firemen;
- (iii) to the payment of such rewards to subordinate fire officers and firemen as the Chief Fire Officer may approve; and
- (iv) in such other manner for the benefit of subordinate fire officers and firemen as the Chief Fire Officer may from time to time direct.

(4) The Chief Fire Officer may invest the whole or any portion of any sum at the credit of the capital account in such securities as the Governor may approve and the interest or dividends derived from such securities shall on receipt thereof be promptly deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank to the credit of the Fund.

(5) With the sanction of the Governor, the Chief Fire Officer may expend the whole or any portion of any sum at the credit of the capital account on any of the objects to which any sum at the credit of the income account may be applied.

(6) An annual account of the Fund made up to the 31st December of each year, together with the Post Office Savings Bank book and all vouchers, shall be submitted to the Director of Audit not later than the 31st January of the next succeeding year and the audited statement shall as soon as possible thereafter be submitted to the Governor.

Periods of duty prescribed in Brigade Orders.

17. The plan of periods of duty for subordinate fire officers and firemen shall be as prescribed from time to time by the Chief Fire Officer in Brigade Orders.

Pay and allowances. First schedule

18. (1) The pay and allowances of members of the Brigade shall be in accordance with the provisions set out in the first schedule.

(2) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to prevent the Chief Fire Officer from providing members of the Brigade while on duty at a fire or other occurrence with such lodging, meals or refreshments as may be necessary in the interest of efficiency.

Leave.

19. (1) Section leaders, leading firemen and firemen deemed to be appointed regular members of the Brigade under section 12 of the Ordinance shall continue to enjoy such leave conditions as were applicable to them immediately prior to the appointed day.

(2) Section leaders, leading firemen and firemen appointed to be regular members of the Brigade on or after the appointed day shall have and enjoy such leave conditions as are applicable to section leaders, leading firemen and firemen who were immediately prior to the appointed day members of the Police Force other than supernumerary constables, and who are deemed to be appointed regular members of the Brigade under section 12 of the Ordinance.

(3) Regular members of the Brigade other than section leaders, leading firemen and firemen shall have and enjoy such leave conditions as may be applicable to them as members of the public service.

(4) The Chief Fire Officer or the officer in charge of a unit may grant leave to any auxiliary member serving in such unit.

Admission, training and service. Second schedule.

20. The rules governing the admission of members into the Brigade and the periods of probation, training and service thereafter shall be as set out in the second schedule.

Uniform.

21. The scale of issue and the type of uniform to be worn by members of the Brigade shall be in accordance with the third schedule.

Third schedule. Promotion.

22. The qualifications for and the rules governing promotion to any rank of subordinate fire officer shall be as set out in the fourth schedule.

Fourth schedule.

Discipline.

23. (1) The provisions of Part II and Part IV of the Police Regulations relating to discipline shall, subject to paragraph (2) of this regulation, apply to members of the Brigade in so far as they are consistent with the authority of the Governor in Council to make regulations under the Ordinance relating to discipline of members of the Brigade.

Cap. 77.

(2) For the purpose of paragraph (1) of this regulation the provisions of the Police Regulations mentioned therein shall have effect as if there were substituted for the Police Force designations set out in the first column of the fifth schedule to these Regulations the corresponding Fire Brigade designations set out in the second column of the said schedule.

Fifth schedule.

24. Every member of the Brigade shall at all times punctually and promptly perform all appointed duties and attend to all matters within the scope of his office, and whether a member of the Brigade is nominally on duty or off duty his responsibility shall be the same and it shall be his duty to take action for the protection of life and property against fire.

Members of Brigade to perform duties promptly.

25. If any member of the Brigade disposes of, whether by pawn, sale, destruction, loss or otherwise, or wilfully or negligently injures any equipment, clothing or necessaries issued for the use of the Brigade he may, in addition to any other punishment, be required by the Chief Fire Officer to make good the amount of such loss or damage by stoppages out of his pay.

Member of Brigade to make good loss or damage of equipment, etc.

26. If any member of the Brigade being a driver in charge of a Brigade vehicle or a coxswain in charge of a Brigade vessel is concerned in any accident causing damage to such vehicle or vessel and it is found after due inquiry that the accident was caused by the driver's or coxswain's negligence, he may, with the approval of the Governor, in addition to any other punishment, be required to make good the amount of such damage or any part thereof, by stoppages out of his pay.

Liability of driver or coxswain for damage.

27. Every member of the Brigade who shall be dismissed from or cease to hold or exercise his office in the Brigade shall forthwith deliver up to the officer in charge of the unit in which he is serving all clothing, personal equipment and Government property which may have been supplied to him or entrusted to his care, and on default in so doing shall be liable to pay for such items.

Member of Brigade to return issue on termination of service.

28. Where a person ceases to be a member of the Brigade he shall be given a certificate signed by the Chief Fire Officer showing his rank and setting out the period of his service in the Brigade and the reason, cause or manner of his leaving the Brigade and the Chief Fire Officer may include in the certificate any comments of commendation which he feels justified in making:

Certificate service.

Provided that where such person was required to resign or was dismissed, the certificate shall not contain any description of the circumstances in which he was required to resign or was dismissed.

29. (1) The Chief Fire Officer may make charges in accordance with this regulation for any special services of the Brigade requested by any person for purposes other than fire fighting purposes.

Charges in special services.

(2) Whenever the services of the Brigade are requested by any person for purposes other than fire fighting purposes that person shall be required to sign an agreement in writing to pay for such services:

Provided that if the signing of any such agreement would cause delay endangering life or property the special services of the Brigade may be rendered forthwith and the agreement signed when circumstances permit.

(3) Any special service which in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer or other officer in charge of a unit is of a humanitarian nature shall be rendered free of charge.

(4) The charges for the special services of the Brigade shall be set out in Standing Orders and shall be shown on the forms of agreement required to be signed by persons requiring the special services of the Brigade.

(5) Nothing in this regulation shall prejudice any right of the Government of the Colony or any member of the Brigade to participate in the proceeds of any salvage claim.

Orders.
Standing

30. The Chief Fire Officer may from time to time make such Standing Orders as he may think necessary for the management of the Brigade generally; but such Standing Orders shall not in any respect be inconsistent with any law relating to the Brigade for the time being in force.

Application of Colonial Regulations and General
Orders.

31. All regular members of the Brigade shall in respect of any matter not provided for in the Regulations, be subject to the provisions of Colonial Regulations and General Orders as are from time to time in force.

FIRST SCHEDULE

Regulation 18(1).

Pay and Allowances

PART I.

Pay

1. The pay of the Chief Fire Officer and all regular members of the Brigade shall be such as may be prescribed from time to time by the Governor in Council out of funds provided by the Legislature.

2. Where a regular member of the Brigade is promoted to a rank the minimum salary of which is less than or the same as the maximum salary of the rank from which he is promoted and at the date of his promotion he is in receipt of salary not less than the minimum of the rank to which he has been promoted he shall be granted one increment in his new scale with effect from the date of his promotion.

3. (1) A fireman who is a regular member of the Brigade and who has fifteen years' service may be granted a long service increment in his pay if the Chief Fire Officer is satisfied that he is of good conduct and has shown zeal and proficiency in the performance of his duties.

(2) A fireman who has been in receipt of a long service increment for a period of not less than five years may be granted a further long service increment in his pay if the Chief Fire Officer is satisfied that he has continued to be of good conduct and to show zeal and proficiency in the performance of his duties.

4. Where a member of the Brigade has immediately before his appointment to the Brigade served with the Georgetown Fire Brigade or the New Amsterdam Fire Brigade, such part of such service as is continuous with his service in the Brigade shall count as service in the Brigade for the purposes of paragraph 3 of this part of this schedule and of paragraph 7 of the fourth schedule.

5. (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) of this paragraph, auxiliary members of the Brigade when called out for service shall be paid at the same rate as regular members of the Brigade of equivalent rank.

(2) An auxiliary member of the Brigade called out for service shall receive the full daily rate of pay for duty in excess of 4 hours in any one day, but one half of such rate in respect of duty of 4 hours or less:

Provided, however, that in any special case where the lower rate of pay would entail financial loss to the auxiliary member the Chief Fire Officer may in his discretion authorise payment at the higher rate.

6. Auxiliary members of the Brigade shall be paid at the rates prescribed by the Governor in Council in respect of drills attended by them subject to a maximum of 80 drills in any one year.

PART II

Allowances.

1. A regular member of the Brigade who is absent on duty from his home and usual place of duty and necessarily incurs additional expense in obtaining food or lodging or both shall be paid a subsistence allowance on the conditions and at the rates applicable to members of the public service of corresponding salary status.

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall entitle a member of the Brigade to any subsistence allowance in respect of absence from his home and usual place of duty for the purpose of attendance at a fire or special service or at a drill or ambulance call.

2. A subordinate fire officer or fireman who is employed on a continuous duty system by reason of an emergency may be provided with free meals during such period.

3. A regular member of the Brigade shall, on the recommendation of the Chief Fire Officer, be granted duty, travelling or transport allowances on the same conditions as those under which such allowances are payable to members of the public service.

4. Any member of the Brigade who performs or assists in performing a special service for which a labour charge is made under regulation 29 of these Regulations shall be entitled to such proportion of that charge as may be prescribed from time to time in Standing Orders.

SECOND SCHEDULE

Regulation 20.

(1) He must be a British subject of not less than 18 and not more than 35 years of age.

(2) He must after examination by a Government Medical Officer be certified to be in good health, of sound constitution and suited both physically and mentally to perform the duties on which he will be employed after appointment.

(3) He must satisfy the Chief Fire Officer by undergoing a simple educational test to be set by the Chief Fire Officer that he has attained an educational standard necessary for him to receive the training and subsequently to perform the duties of a fireman.

(4) He must pass a simple strength test set by the Chief Fire Officer.

(5) He must be of good character and not have been convicted of any criminal offence of a nature which would in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer render him unsuitable for service in the Brigade.

2. The minimum qualifications required of an applicant for appointment as an auxiliary member of the Brigade shall be as follows —

(1) He must be a British subject of not less than 18 years of age.

(2) He must after examination by a Government Medical Officer be certified to be in good health, of sound constitution and suited both physically and mentally to perform the duties on which he will be employed after appointment.

(3) He must be of good character and not have been convicted of any criminal offence of a nature which would in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer render him unsuitable for service in the Brigade.

3. Every person on being enrolled in the Brigade as a regular member in the rank of fireman shall be placed on probation for 2 years and if at any time within the said period of 2 years he shows by his conduct or otherwise that he is not likely to become a suitable fireman the Chief Fire Officer may discharge him on one month's notice:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall apply to any regular fireman deemed to be appointed to the Brigade under section 12 of the Ordinance.

4. A member of the Brigade on probation shall, before the expiration of his probationary period, satisfy the Chief Fire Officer that he has become proficient in the driving of heavy vehicles or the handling of fire boats, first aid to the injured and practical firemanship, and may for that purpose be required to pass tests in those matters.

5. (1) Every regular member of the Brigade of the rank of subordinate fire officer or fireman, unless specially or generally excused by the Chief Fire Officer, shall undergo periodic training in fireman's duties appropriate to his rank. Such training shall be performed on week days, excluding public holidays, and shall not normally exceed 8 hours in any week unless in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer the number of hours of such training should be extended.

(2) Every auxiliary member of the Brigade of the rank of subordinate fire officer or fireman, unless specially or generally excused by the Chief Fire Officer, shall undergo periodic training in fireman's duties appropriate to his rank. Such training shall be performed at such times and places as the Chief Fire Officer shall direct and shall not normally exceed 50 hours in any year unless in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer the number of hours of such training should be extended.

(3) No member of the Brigade who is over 50 years of age shall be required to perform training which in the opinion of the Chief Fire Officer is physically exhausting.

6. For the purpose of paragraph 5 of this schedule, "training in fireman's duties" shall be deemed to include the following —

- (1) all drills mentioned in the Fire Service Drill Book;
- (2) pump drills, wet and dry;
- (3) ladder drills;
- (4) escape drills;
- (5) carrying down drills and practical rescue work;

FOURTH SCHEDULE

Regulation 22.

Promotions

1. In this schedule "promotion" means promotion to any rank of subordinate fire officer.

2. All promotions shall be made by the Chief Fire Officer provided that promotions to the rank of sub-officer shall only be made with the approval of the Governor.

3. In order to assist the Chief Fire Officer in matters of promotion a Selection Committee shall be established consisting of three members of the Brigade appointed by the Chief Fire Officer.

4. It shall be the duty of the Selection Committee to interview and examine all candidates for promotion and to make such recommendations as they think fit to the Chief Fire Officer, but the Chief Fire Officer shall not be bound to act in accordance with the Selection Committee's recommendation.

5. Members of the Brigade shall be considered for promotion to ranks above that of leading fireman on merit, and seniority shall only be taken into account where in the opinion of the Selection Committee candidates for promotion are otherwise of equal merit.

6. All members of the Brigade shall have equal opportunity for promotion regardless of any specialist duties on which they are or may have been engaged.

7. No regular member of the Brigade shall be promoted unless he has completed three years of service.

8. When a vacancy occurs in any rank above that of leading fireman the vacancy shall be notified to all members of the Brigade and every member holding rank immediately below that in which the vacancy exists shall have the right to become a candidate and to cause himself to be examined for promotion.

9. When examining a candidate with a view to assessing his suitability for promotion, the Selection Committee shall cause the candidate to take a written, a practical and an oral examination to be set by the Chief Fire Officer all of which shall be so designed as to reveal the candidate's knowledge of the subjects, skill in practical firemanship and ability to command men.

10. (1) All questions in the written examination shall be set by the Chief Fire Officer who shall cause the questions to be kept secret until the commencement of the examination.

(2) The written examination shall be so prepared that candidates shall have a reasonable opportunity of answering all questions required to be answered in the specified time.

11. The oral and practical examinations shall be conducted by the Selection Committee and the records of the examinations shall contain details of the questions asked or tasks set, the maximum marks awarded each correct answer or correctly performed task the name of the candidate and the marks obtained by him on each question or task.

12. The records of all promotion examinations shall be kept by the Chief Fire Officer and a member of the Brigade who passes any such examination for promotion to a particular rank need not offer himself for examination again for promotion to that rank.

13. The fact that a member of the Brigade has passed a promotion examination shall only qualify him to be considered for promotion.

14. Nothing in this schedule shall preclude the Chief Fire Officer or other officer in charge of a unit from making temporary appointments of subordinate fire officers on an unpaid basis if the exigencies of the Brigade so require.
