(3) Regulations made under this section shall be subject to negative resolution of the National Assembly.”.

Explanatory Memorandum

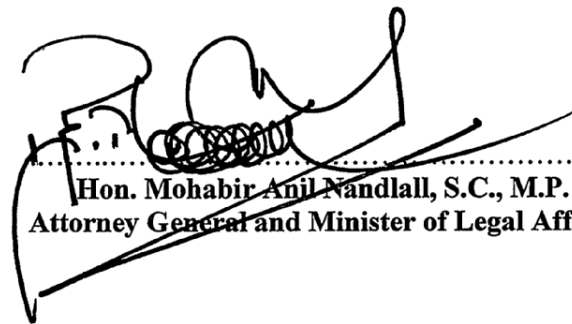

This Bill amends the Wills Act by inserting in that Act new sections 6A and 14.

The new section 6A(1), provides that one of the attesting witnesses to a will may swear to an affidavit as to due execution of the will immediately after the execution of the will or as soon as practicable after the execution of the will.

Section 6A(2) of the new section provides for the affidavit of due execution under subsection (1) to be stated at the bottom of the will, on a separate page annexed to the will or to be a separate document.

Section 6A(3) provides that notwithstanding any other law or practice, one affidavit of due execution of a will shall be sufficient evidence as to the due execution of the will unless the Court orders otherwise. Only the Court may decide that circumstances require two affidavits or any other evidence.

Section 14 provides for the Minister to make regulations for the better carrying out of the provisions of the Act. Under section 14 the Minister has power to make offences for breaches of the regulations and the penalties for the breaches shall not exceed a fine of one million dollars and imprisonment of five years. Regulations made shall be subject to negative resolution of the National Assembly.
